

About

Cultural Infusion provides incursions, professional development and educational resources for early learning centres, schools, and community organisations throughout Australia. From performances for celebrations to interactive educational workshops, we can tailor an intercultural understanding program to meet your needs.

Presenters bring a wide variety of experiences from around the world, and many are available for virtual delivery as well as in person.

Educational resources are provided in the form of lesson plans and digital platforms such as Sound Infusion (an online music arranging studio) and Joko's World (an interactive story exploring different countries). Combined with culturally diverse incursions, these resources enable students to learn through units of work, with a depth of understanding that encourages empathy and connection between people regardless of background.

Book a Cultural Infusion incursion today and help your community, early learning centre or school to discover the wider world.
